Empower! Dakota Community Engagement by Dakota Resources meets with Frederick Area students.

BY KNUTE REIERSON
Superintendent

Frederick students in grades 9-12 were partakers in a discussion on how to improve the Frederick, Westport, Barnard, and Elm Lake communities. A $10,000 Community Innovation grant obtained by Frederick Forward from the Bush Foundation and the South Dakota Community Foundation is funding this effort. Dakota Resources presenters Paula Jensen (Langford) and Kristi Wagner (Whitewood) helped 10 small groups of students brainstorm on what they hope our communities could look like in 10 years.

Frederick F.Y.I. Keeping Us Connected

BY JUDY SCHULTZ
Frederick Forward

Frederick Forward received two notes from former residents expressing their appreciation for the FYI newsletter. Chuck and Ethel Moser from Spokane, WA wrote: "Ethel and I enjoy reading your newspaper. It keeps us informed on what's going on. We are both in our 80's and don't travel much anymore, but we still consider Frederick our home town."

Preparing for Your Future

BY ASHLEY LARSEN
Frederick Area Counselor

School is already back in full swing. With all the sports and extra activities taking hold, it is easy to push off that application for college, that scholarship application, or that homework assignment.

I have been working with seniors to get them on the right path to reach their goals. With the FAFSA priority deadline being pulled forward to October 1st, it is putting much pressure on the senior class to get moving to decide on a college (or at least narrow it down) to get these applications started.

Colleges are beginning to move up their scholarship deadlines as well to match the FAFSA. I don't foresee the private scholarships being far behind. This year there are many changes for the senior class: decisions for post-high school education, what scholarships they are eligible for, and deciding whether to leave the state. The list is never-ending.

Juniors, it is important to not just push off the idea of college because you have another year of high school. Find out what classes you need to take to graduate, and ask if you have room for a dual-credit course. These are all things that need answers so you are prepared to make those decisions when the time comes. Don't forget that as juniors you are eligible for many scholarships out there as well. The best advice I can give is that when you hear of a scholarship, apply for it now. Don't wait around until the deadline is right around the corner. Try to do some job shadowing and your own research to decide what profession might be right for you. Finally, DON'T be afraid to ask for help. That is why I am here, as well as many parents and teachers who were once in the same boat as you as juniors and seniors.

Welcoming in a New Year

BY KNUTE REIERSON
Superintendent

CORNER

With another year off and running I wanted to give you the community a few exciting updates on some of the school happenings! I also wanted to thank some of the many hard-working staff who daily contribute to the success and running of our school. As you know, Frederick Area School hired Keith Underberg to transport students from Aberdeen to Frederick. Our Aberdeen transportation list had four students for the first day of school.

With four weeks of school under our belt, our Aberdeen list of riders has grown to six as two more Aberdeen students have open enrolled in grade 10. Additionally, two more students have open enrolled from Ellendale bringing our current enrollment to 168 as compared to 157 at the end of last year. This brings our list of new students to 18 with two more anticipated in October. Enrolling extra students adds extra preparation and scheduling to the teachers in addition to Mrs. Ringgenberg, Stacey Sumption, and Justin Brotzel as well as others. So, thank you for handling these increases with grace and continuous smiles!

Various other building improvement projects have been finished. This is a compliment to our new Maintenance Director Scott Gilbertson and our reliable assistant custodian Tom Arnold. Thank you also to Rick and Sheryl Downes, who were part-time, temporary summer employees who helped out, organized, and ordered parts for some of Scott and Tom's projects. Tom painted many walls in the old high school wing continuing that pretty Carolina Blue that Bob and Sheryl did the summer of 2015. A new door closer on the Fitness Center, a new treadmill, and a new locker room water fountain (east side) are nice additions as are the four bathroom doors in the locker rooms. As the Fitness Center TV is no longer functional, there is also a need for a new TV. Any donations are welcome.

Finally, parents, if you come in to eat with your children at school, you will be treated to some great cooking by our new Head Cook Sheryl Downes and her assistant Faye Gunther. Sheryl continues the great homemade bread that Faye always made, but has recently added some more home-cooked recipes of her own.

Yes, Frederick Area School is a great place for students with the many dedicated staff who daily give their all for our students. Take time to thank these dedicated personnel!

Preparing for Success in 2016-17

BY JESSICA RINGGENBERG
K-12 Principal

PRINCIPAL
CORNER

Wow! It is hard to believe that mid-term of the first quarter has already passed! I'd like to take this opportunity to remind you that the school only mails home semester and year-end grades for high school students.

To keep track of your child's grades on a regular basis, be sure to contact Mrs. Sumption in the office to set up a Parent Portal account. This also being said, I thought I would offer a few homework tips to help keep your child going throughout the year.

First, make sure that your child has an appropriate space to complete homework. We know that distractions are a big issue in the classroom, and they will be at home too. The less interruptions a child has when completing homework, the sooner and better it will be done, so the space is important. Second, make sure that students have the right materials and adequate time to complete homework. Creating a homework schedule and teaching time management skills will have a positive effect on students beyond their school years.

My final suggestion to a successful school year is communication. Check in with teachers, and understand their rules and guidelines with homework. Don't be afraid to ask for teaching tips to guide students through instruction. Learning is a lot of work for all people involved. Making sure everyone is on the same page when it comes to homework helps alleviate some stress.

As always, if you ever have concerns about your child, please reach out to us. I look forward to seeing many of you at homecoming on October 14th and conferences on October 27th.

First Exercise Class a Success

BY LIZ LABESKY
Music Director

We had our first exercise class on Wednesday, September 21 and with the two instructors there were ten people. Perhaps the most exciting thing was the age range, which including our young instructor, ranged from 26-82!

We've already decided to change our plan so the class will be divided into two groups. One group will be for those who feel they have bad joints, are too old, too heavy, too out-of-shape, or have too many artificial joints, etc. The other group will go harder, but again at a level suitable to you. The three elderly ladies were quite skeptical and ready to leave before we started, but they left thinking, "I can do this!" So will you! We are planning to have class once a week until the end of October, then we would like to try for twice a week. We also hope to get into a more set schedule by then. If you are wondering when the next class is, please email Liz Labesky at Elizabeth.Labesky@k12.sd.us or Jamie Hart at hart.jamie20@gmail.com. Or just call the school at 329-2145.

We would REALLY like to have some men in our class. I know there are a few out there that are thinking about it so why not give it a try? It's a lot of fun and we can all do this!

Activity Calendar Updates

BY KNUTE REIERSON

As the school year progresses, the list of activities increases and changes. To stay current with the activities of the Frederick Area School, go to the FASD website and print a copy of the Activity Calendar. The latest version is updated as of 9-12-16 as noted in the bottom right hand corner of the page. The activity calendar is located under the topic of

Band Selling Wreaths

Titans Football Update

BY ZACH SUMPTION
FASD Journalism

The Leola-Frederick Titan football boys have come out of the gates with a close win against Herreid-Selby, and a blowout win against Northwestern. In week three, the Titans were unable to execute against a tough Faulkton squad. When asking Coach Morlock what improvements he would like to make he stated, "Offensively - blocking, and defensively - we need to improve on our gap assignments."

The Titans have an incredible bunch of seniors and hope to clinch a playoff spot with at least a 4-4 record. The October schedule has the boys hosting Warner in Leola on the 7th, Homecoming night in Frederick on the 14th against Langford, and then heading to Miller to wrap up the regular season on the 20th.

Titans Volleyball Update

BY ISABELLE PODOLL
FASD Journalism

This year's volleyball team has started out strong. They have made a few adjustments in practice and those adjustments have been brought into the games.

"We need to work on being consistent in games and making sure that we finish each set," said Coach Mueller. "The girls are dedicated. The team is very strong in many areas, such as passing. You can tell that they each want to make a good pass to the setter so that she can set to the hitters. The girls have been working a lot on passing and serving in practice. They have done a great job on passing and now we just need to become consistent with their serving."

The girls will be in Frederick three times this month, October 3rd

(Roncalli), 4th (Groton), and the 8th (Waubay-Summit, 11:00 start time).

Student Laptops

BY JOHN VANDOVER
FASD Journalism

Once again another school year has rolled around and the 7-12 students have had their iPads replaced with new laptops. The iPads they had last year have been given to the elementary to use.

After one month of use, the reviews are in from the students. Freshman Jake Kenser stated, "I'd rather have iPads because they are quicker to setup and faster than the laptops." Other kids had different opinions including 7th grader Brennen Robertson, "It helps to get work done faster and helps with online assignments. I love online stuff."

In my opinion the new laptops look nicer and are a little bigger, but are slower than our previous laptop computers. As with any technology, it takes time to fully understand the advantages and disadvantages of the device.

United Against Bullying

BY MIRANDA SUMPTION
FASD Journalism

Bullying has been around for ages. Within the past decade though, it has become progressively worse. This is partially due to the internet, cell phones, and the sky-rocketing use of social media. At least once in everyone's life they have felt not worthy enough from someone else's words or actions. Bullying is something that can easily be prevented. October is National Bullying Awareness month. On October 19th, we celebrate Unity Day. This day is to show support for those who face bullies every day, and to stand up against those who do the bullying. On October 19th, be sure to wear your best orange outfit to show support for this organization. This year will be the 10th anniversary of Unity Day.

Cross Country Team Making Strides

BY FASD JOURNALISM

Runners for the 2016 season are Miranda Sumption, Amber Eclipse, Emily Kocher, Trisha Reisdorff, Johnathan Bretsch, and Anna Brotzel. Coach Barondeau stated that the team consists of "mostly JV runners," but thinks that it could be possible for state runners this season. She is "pleased with the effort" of the runners and they are going strong. The only down side to this year is that the runners have "very limited varsity experience." On the bright side, she did say that we have "definite potential and we are getting better. We have been focusing on life lessons. It has been going well. We have had lots of fun. All in all, this year has been going well and we see lots of improvement."

Home Coming Week

BY FASD JOURNALISM

Homecoming Week is scheduled for October 10th - 14th at the Frederick Area School. The King and Queen candidates from the senior class are Zach Sumption, Austin Sumption, John VanDover, Kayla Clifford, Jessica Podoll, and Miranda Sumption. Dress up days for the week are as follows:

A new excitement is building in the air in and around the communities of Barnard, Elm Lake, Frederick, and Westport to "Rise Up & Raise the Bar."

That is the purpose statement selected by the Frederick Area Empower! Dakota planning committee after extensive brainstorming, deliberation, and consensus-building. The recently-developed committee, made up of residents from each of the four communities, is excited and motivated to share this mission and purpose.

Additionally, they are looking forward to getting others excited about making a difference to "Rise Up and Raise the Bar" as well. Empower! Dakota is a community engagement program from Dakota Resources that provides hands-on guidance and support to help communities make strategic decisions and wise investments while developing creative, forward-thinking progress. The goal is to strengthen and empower people and organizations to make decisions that will positively impact the future vitality and viability of their community.

The Empower! Dakota process helps rural residents be the change they want to see in their communities. The focus will be on three key objectives in each of our partnering communities: Engagement, Empowerment, and Encouragement.

Empower! Dakota leaders from Dakota Resources, based in Sioux Falls, along with local committee members, have been and will be in the area meeting with individuals, groups, and organizations. The meetings will be to introduce the Empower! Dakota program and community engagement process and explain why it's important for the future of our communities to be involved through their participation, input, action and attitude.

It is the hope that by participating, residents will be inspired and motivated, whether they are age 10 or 90 and whether they are in their community, classroom, place of work, church, family or wherever they may be energized to "Rise Up and Raise the Bar." The hope is to create an exciting new shift with a positive attitude that spurs progress, momentum and growth in the communities served and within each individual living in and around those communities.

Frederick Forward was inspired to apply for and successfully obtain a grant to help with the cost to participate in this program after seeing the success other communities who have participated in the program have seen. Simmons Park Equipment Needed

By KRYSTI MIKKONEN
Frederick Forward

Frederick Forward is looking for your help and contributions in their attempt to get new park equipment in Simmons Park. The organization is looking for new equipment to provide a more inviting park that encourages activity and also enhances the overall beautification of the park.

Paying a visit to the park, visitors see that the existing park equipment is very limited in what is offered. Additionally, several items are broken and/or need updating. The objective of this project is to fix up the existing equipment where possible and get new equipment that is not just geared to area children, but to people of all ages.

In addition to creating a fun environment, the equipment desired will help users ensure better health while simultaneously allowing participants an opportunity to enjoy the outdoors. The proposed park equipment that is tailored more for children helps improve upper body strength, agility, confidence and overall health and wellness. The equipment that caters to adults will focus on aerobic exercise, balance, core and muscle development. The diverse equipment stationed all together allows multi-generational activity.

All equipment has a total cost of approximately $40,000. Simmons Park is an area attraction for a number of people because of the Maple River running by the park, the sand volleyball court, and especially the picnic shelters. The recent addition of several camping spots adjacent to the park has increased the use of the park by visitors and people looking for a place to stop for the night.

Adding this park equipment will provide benefits to area residents as well as people beyond the city limits of Frederick Forward is applying for several grants to help acquire the equipment. Many of the grant applications ask for the amount of local money already raised and use that as a measuring tool to determine the probability of success in a project coming to fruition. The more likely a project looks like it is plausible, the better opportunity the grant may be awarded. To help in this endeavor Frederick Forward hopes to have some, if not all, of the new equipment in place by the 2017 Finn Fest and All School reunion.
